PREFATORY NOTE

THIS eighty-seventh yearly issue of THE ENGLISH CATALOGUE OF BOOKS comprises the titles (under authors, and subjects or titles) of works published during 1923, and also of some received too late for inclusion in the eighty-sixth issue.

The main entry for each book begins with the author's surname (if known) in heavy type. As an index to these "Author" records, entries are also made under the titles, commencing with their most important words (which usually indicate the subjects with which the books deal), or with the first words. Many other index entries are also made under subjects in order to make the CATALOGUE of use to persons in search of the literature of a particular topic, as well as to those requiring a particular book. The name or word under which the main entry appears is printed in italics in these index entries, thus giving a reference to the place where the full information about a book may be found. Main entries and index entries are in one alphabet.

Writers with compound names are entered under the first part of the name, e.g. :—

and accordingly must be looked for in that order. References are also made, however, from the last part of the name.

The publications of learned Societies are recorded in an Appendix.

The names and addresses of the Publishers of Great Britain and Ireland, followed by those of the principal publishers in the United States and Canada, will be found at the end of the volume. The telegraphic and cable addresses and telephone numbers have been added when known.

Particulars of a number of British Agents of American and Colonial publishers have been added to the names of the firms they represent.

Following the Preface is an analysis of the books of the year 1922, showing in detail the number of works in each class of literature, and giving the proportions of new books, translations, pamphlets, and new editions.

Every effort has been made to obtain the full particulars of the books noted. Special enquiries were made in every case where information was deficient ; and most publishers courteously responded. In the cases where entries have been included without prices, the fault lies with the publishers concerned.

Hearty thanks are due to the many publishers, secretaries, librarians, authors and bibliographers who have assisted in making this book more correct and comprehensive than it would have been otherwise.

The Editor will be glad to have particulars (author, title, size, price, publisher, and month of publication) of any work which may have been omitted. Information regarding each book should be given on a separate slip of paper or postcard. It should be addressed to The Editor of THE ENGLISH CATALOGUE OF BOOKS, "Publishers' Circular" Office, 19, Adam Street, Strand, London, W.C.2.

ANALYSIS OF BOOKS

PUBLISHED DURING 1923 IN THE UNITED KINGDOM

THE PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR records a total of 12,274 books as having been published in the United Kingdom during the year 1923.

This is an increase of 1,432 over the total for 1922, and places the year 1923 second only to the "peak" year of 1913 in the history of British publishing. It now may be said that, so far as volume of output is concerned, British publishing has entirely recovered from the effects of the war and its consequent economic depressions.

The accompanying statistical table is in two parts: the first showing the number of publications issued during the year in each class of literature, with details of new books, translations, pamphlets, and new editions; and the second part shows their monthly distribution.

The year's increase of 1,432 is made up of 492 new books and 940 new editions. Actual new British books are 431 up; translations have increased by 83; while pamphlets are practically stationary with a slight drop of 22.

The signs noted last year that the publishing "seasons" were coming back with renewed vigour (after a year or two of more uniform monthly distribution) are fully confirmed by this year's figures. A glance at the second part of the table will leave no doubt as to the reality of the "autumn publishing season," no fewer than 4,017 books having seen the light during September to November. The "spring publishing season" has not yet become so marked as in former years, and it has shifted from March to May. This intense seasonal concentration of book production may be good business for the publishers, but it is a serious drawback to the larger, constant book-buyers, and must mean that the conscientious reviewer can seek refuge only in "dope"!

The "Classified Analysis" shows how the totals for the various kinds of books vary from those of last year. The following classes show appreciable increases:—Fiction (+ 556), Juvenile (+ 272), History (+ 143), Religion (+ 126), Literature (+ 85), Science (+ 81), Medicine (+ 73), Fine Arts (+ 46), and Poetry and Drama (+ 44). A few classes show decreases: General Works (– 68), Games (– 57), Geography (– 39), Law (– 33), and smaller decreases in Business, Agriculture and Military and Naval.

It is interesting to compare the order in which the totals of the chief classes of literature appear this year and in the last pre-war year, because these totals furnish a rough indication of the preferences of the reading public:—

1914.	1923.
(1) Fiction	(1) Fiction
(2) Religion	(2) Juvenile
(3) Science	(3) Religion
(4) Sociology	(4) Sociology
(5) Technology	(5) Poetry
(6) Poetry	(6) Technology
(7) Juvenile	(7) Science
(8) Description	(8) History
(9) Literature	(9) Literature
(10) { History	(10) Description
{ Medicine	(11) Biography
(11) Biography	(12) Medicine
(12) Military and Naval

A feature of the year's publishing that is not revealed by the statistics has been the large number of "limited editions" of more or less deserving books. These "limited editions" appear to have supplanted the old "edition de luxe," although the terms are by no means synonymous. The post-war taste for buying first and limited editions of modern books is a striking feature of the book trade to-day, and no doubt these highly-priced "limited editions" are the publishers' response to a public demand.

The following totals for the last twelve years are also of considerable interest, as they show the "slough of despond" through which publishing has passed to what we may now hope is the firm ground on the other side:—

Year.	New Books.	New Editions.	Total.
1912 ...	9,197	2,870	12,067
1913 ...	9,541	2,838	12,379
1914 ...	8,863	2,674	11,537
1915 ...	8,499	2,166	10,665
1916 ...	7,537	1,612	9,149
1917 ...	6,606	1,525	8,131
1918 ...	6,750	966	7,716
1919 ...	7,327	1,295	8,622
1920 ...	8,738	2,266	11,004
1921 ...	8,757	2,269	11,026
1922 ...	8,754	2,088	10,842
1923 ...	9,246	3,028	12,274

Much further detailed information regarding the year's publishing may be gleaned from the appended analytical tables.

A note as to the method of enumerating the books published may be useful. Each complete publication is counted as one, whether it is in one or more volumes. Serials that appear later as a collected volume are counted as an ordinary book on the appearance of that volume; so that, for example, the series of "Statutory Rules and Orders" issued by the Government, and amounting to hundreds in the year, are counted as one item on the appearance of the annual collected volume.

All Government publications do not appear in THE PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR, and these tables, because many hundreds of them are merely business papers that are not publications in the real sense at all; but all the important Government publications do appear. As regards other classes, it should be noted that "Education" includes only books about educational theory and practice, and not text-books on special subjects which are classed under their subjects; and that all publications of 48 pages or less are counted as "pamphlets." It would be possible to swell the totals to an enormous extent by counting all kinds of printed matter (such as ephemeral pamphlets and leaflets, local government publications, musical texts, etc.), but the purpose of this table is to represent the book publishing activity of the United Kingdom. This must be remembered in comparing the figures with those of other countries, in some of which single copies of newspapers are counted separately.

DIRECTORY OF PUBLISHERS

Publishers are invited to send us their Telegraphic Addresses and Telephone Numbers.

Those sent will be found below between square brackets [], and separated from each other by a semicolon (;). The Editor will be glad to be notified of any inaccuracy in the following lists for correction in subsequent volumes.

This list of Publishers, with their Addresses, has been compiled principally with a view to supplying information regarding the books in the English Catalogue. This will explain the inclusion of some firms in the list who can scarcely, in the strict acceptance of the term, be called Publishers, since the publication of books forms only an occasional part of their business.
